Happy Holidays from the McCawley Family!

"The collection of coins has not only become an infatuating and engrossing pursuit among thousands of persons of all ages and either sex, but out of it has grown up an extensive trade, furnishing the means of livelihood to numerous individuals in all our large cities. Prices have risen a hundred fold, in some cases almost incalculably; unreasonably; and speculation has been rife . . .

(from The American Journal of Numismatics, Vol. 1, No. 1, May, 1866.)

OUR TERMS OF SALE

1. All coins are guaranteed genuine. I will replace or issue a refund for any coin found not to be genuine. This is a lifetime guarantee. Over ten years of business I have never had to make good on this promise. But I make it anyway for your protection.

2. All attributions are guaranteed correct. Also a lifetime guarantee. I will issue a refund or if available provide a replacement for any coin found to be mis-attributed.

3. A full thirty day return privilege is allowed on all purchases. Returns may be made for any reason, or for no reason. My business depends on attracting repeat customers. It does neither one of us any good for you to keep a coin with which you are not completely satisfied. I am confident that the overall quality and value of the material I offer here is second to none. This does not mean that you might not order a coin that fails to satisfy your personal taste or desire. It is even possible for me to have missed a defect or to have been optimistic about the grade. It can happen. But it is not my intention. I encourage you to use the thirty days as an approval period. Feel free to show your purchases to other knowledgeable EAC members. Get a second opinion. All sales are final after the thirty day period, though I will certainly consider an extension upon reasonable request.

4. Approval service is also available to established clients. Seven days inspection is allowed on approval service at which time the coin must be returned or funds remitted. Approval sales are considered final after the seven days. Extensions are available upon request. We also accept VISA or MASTERCARD with a 3% service fee.

5. All orders are sent postpaid.

6. Strict ANA and EAC guidelines are followed in grading.

In addition to strict ANA and EAC guidelines I have introduced "value" or "net" grading into my descriptions. Sharpness or technical grade according to ANA standards is fairly easy to describe with consistency. However most old copper coins have acquired defects over time that detract from the overall desirability of the coin. I describe these defects and deduct from the technical grade based on their presence. As an example a coin might be described: "1805 S-267 VF20. Sharpness of VF30 with smooth brown surfaces, some light pin scratches where corrosion was removed at K1 reverse." Here is a coin VF30 by ANA standards but with scratches at one o'clock on the reverse. Plainly the coin would be more desirable were the scratches not present. I describe the defects and deduct ten points from the overall grade. The first grade listed represents the net or value grade. Clearly this is an art and elements of subjectivity are inevitable. Where there is no second grade listed it is my opinion that the net grade is the same as the sharpness grade. Perhaps not perfection but whatever marks present have been judged to be consistent with the technical grade of the coin and do not detract from the net grade. The intent is for you to have as close an idea as possible of the overall condition of the coin you may wish to purchase. No unpleasant surprises!

7. I attempt to give a rarity rating for each variety listed. These in large part reflect the current EAC ratings as compiled in Jack Robinson's Copper Quotes. I also offer opinions relative to condition census ratings, die state, and condition rarity. These change constantly as new coins are discovered and reported. I attempt to use the latest data or information available. Still these ratings cannot be 100% accurate and remain a matter of opinion only. Having said this I can also say with confidence that more information and more research is available on Early Copper than any other area of American Numismatics. Large cents have been actively collected and researched for more than one hundred years. One can therefore have a high degree of confidence in the general accuracy of current information. I urge all my clients to form the numismatic library necessary to allow them to make informed judgements and purchasing decisions. It is foolish to invest money in coins if you have not already invested in the books and other sources necessary to the full enjoyment of them.

8. I have yet to meet anyone who has bought coins merely as an investment who has realized a net return upon liquidation. I have, however, met numerous serious collectors, who having formed a discriminating collection over a period of years realized a substantial profit when their collection was ultimately sold. Most collectors find that the enjoyment, education, and friendships formed as a result of their collecting pursuits have been their greatest reward. It is much easier to lose money quickly than to make money quickly in rare coins. If you are not willing to undertake the educational process necessary to make well informed decisions regarding your collection you will almost certainly lose. Coin dealers are often more than willing to give investment advice. As my good friend Jack Robinson (whose collection did very well for him when it was sold in 1989) likes to say: THINK ABOUT IT! When you ask a cat which canary to buy remember his first concern may not be how well it sings. There are may opportunities to do well financially in rare coins. But as with any other medium of investment, success is the result of a combination of knowledge, good timing and the ability to wait for the right time to sell. Commit yourself to the process of becoming an educated collector and you stand a good chance of success.

Happy Holidays 5% OFF!

Our annual Holiday Catalog is here. Merry Christmas to all. Please note a number of new coins especially among the Half Cents and Colonials. The descriptions are abbreviated. Please visit my website www.earlycents.com for additional descriptions and photos.

In the spirit of the Holidays please take a 5% discount off of anything in this catalog. That includes Colonials, Half Cents, Large Cents, the re-offering of Evan Kopald Large Cents and Books.

I will be attending the FUN convention in Orlando Jan 1-6 and the Long Beach Convention in California Feb 14-17.

Prior to the Long Beach Convention, we will hold the sale of the Jim Corrado family collection of Middle Date Large Cents. This will be held February 11 in association with Ira & Larry Goldberg Auctions of Beverly Hills. There will be an important offering of Colonials as well. Over 900 lots in all. Please contact me for information on consigning to future sales.

Thanks,

Chris

COLONIALS

1551-T FRANCE DOUZAIN EF40 $ 285.00
39.1 gns. Nante's Mint. This coin is impressive, with a crudely round shape reminiscent of Massachusetts silver. Sharp strike with some doubling on the date side. Bright silvery surfaces. No problems.

1695-D RECOINED BILLION SOL BREEN 276 $ 150.00
(GADOURY 92) VF35 31.5gns. Lyon Mint. A smooth attractive high end piece, toned light olive with a steel tint. Roughly a rectangle in shape.

1723 WOODS HIBERNIA HALFPENNY AU55 $ 550.00
Choice glossy medium brown. The fields are slightly reflective.

1785 CONNECTICUT MILLER 1-E R4 AU50 $4,750.00
148.8 gns. Surfaces are glossy and alternating dark chocolate brown and chocolate. No marks or planchet defects other than a small planchet clip over CON. This example could well be the finest known. C4 12 #51.

1785 CONNECTICUT MILLER 5-F.5 R4 VF20$ 385.00
138.5gns. Glossy light to medium golden brown with reddish brown and chocolate toning in protected areas.

1785 CONNECTICUT MILLER 6.2-F.1 R3 VF3 $ 450.00
138.3 gns. Sharper, but dark with microscopic roughness hidden under a glossy deep brown patina. Ex. Ryder. C4 12 #93.

1786 CONNECTICUT MILLER 3-D.1 R5+ F15 $1,550.00
THE "SCHOLAR'S HEAD" VARIETY. CLIPPED PLANCHET. 147.1 gns. Dark olive brown with hints of chocolate toning. Retains some gloss. No verdigris, but there are two dull parallel scratches slanting down the upper part of the neck. The date and legends are complete and strong. Clearly superior to the Perkins example, and the Ford coin was only marginally stronger. C4 12 #115.

1786 CONNECTICUT M.5.2-1 MBL R4 F12 $ 175.00
117.0gns. Dark olive brown, but remarkably smooth and glossy.

COMMENTS

We hear often how expensive coin collecting has become. And it is true, the building of a substantial collection has become an expensive undertaking. But there can still be plenty of collecting enjoyment to be had without huge expense.

So, in the spirit of the season, following in the tradition of the Twelve Days of Christmas, we humbly submit our twelve suggestions for expanding your numismatic enjoyment without shrinking your wallet too dramatically.

1. Subscribe to a new journal, magazine, or newspaper. Do you already receive Coin World and Numismatic News? Coin Age, Coins magazine? How about the Smithsonian or American Heritage? There are many publications, national, regional and local, that will enhance your collecting experience and broaden your knowledge. Average cost $25 or less.

2. Buy a book. There are dozens of great numismatic books. General titles like The 100 Greatest U.S Coins. Or specialty works like The Die Varieties of United States Large Cents 1840-1857. Pick one! You'll have a hard time spending more than $100 for the most extensive specialized book. And many general tittles will be $20 or less.

3. There are hundreds of great auction catalogs. Nowadays these are usually profusely illustrated and full of useful information. Sure you can spend a couple thousand dollars for a rare plated Chapman catalog from the early twentieth century, but most recent catalogs will be $25 or less. And many great catalogs can be found for less. The series of informative Colonial Coin Club auction sales can be found usually for $15 or less. I recently purchased a copy of the Bowers & Merena 1988 Norweb Sale for $3.

4. Write your own catalog. Begin a collector's journal describing the coins you have acquired for your collection. Their provenance and origin. Stories about previous owners. Describe the gentle manners and kind demeanor of the dealer from whom you bought the coin. (My mentor, Mitch Cole, from whom I purchased my first 1847 Large Cent over 25 years ago has such a demeanor.) These anecdotal notes can be entertaining and informative when read years later. The response we have had to the publication of the Evan Kopald Collection catalog which was written exclusively by Mr. Kopald has been overwhelmingly positive. The cost: a legal pad and a pen probably less than a buck.

5. Join a Club. The Colonial Coin Collector's Club, The Early American Coppers, The Token and Medal Society, The American Numismatic Association, The Civil War Token Society, The John Reich Collector's Society, The American Numismatic Society. For your $25 you usually get a subscription to the club's publication, maybe an auction catalog or two. I think my ANS membership card is the only place I have ever seen my name and the word society used in close proximity.

6. Do you have a great magnifying glass? I use a high end Zeiss. It cost me (gulp) $100, but it has probably saved me more than that. A top notch Bausch & Lomb might cost you $30. You see more and better with a high quality loupe. So treat yourself to one. Besides, have you bought a pair of corrective lenses and frames lately? If you see a Porsche with the vanity license plate "20-20", that's my optometrist.

7. Do you own a camel's hair brush as they are called? They are probably not made of camel's hair anymore. But you don't have to be one of the three kings to afford one. Rod Buress sells them for $8. A very useful tool for preserving your precious old coppers.

8. Build a display of your favorite coins and exhibit it. It can be exhibited at your local library or school. It doesn't have to be competitively exhibited at the ANA Convention. The most joyful collector I know doesn't have the largest or most expensive collection, but he has consistently built and displayed a new exhibit every year for as long as I have known him. His enthusiasm is contagious. I would love to be the dealer to help him complete his half cent clip clock. If I find an eleven o'clock clip, it might mean a $50 sale to me. But the feeling of "participating" in a small way in his exhibit? Priceless. Apart from the coins, Mr. Mark probably has less than $100 in materials cost for each exhibit.

9. Attend a small local show with the intention of buying nothing to add to your collection. Just watch other collectors and especially the kids that attend these small shows. You can buy something, but it has to be outside your area of knowledge and it has to be cheap. What do they call it? Spontaneous impulse purchase. Many years ago I wandered into a small stamp show and bought a series of covers (that's envelopes with old stamps on them for you provincial coin collectors). The letters in the envelopes were written by an itinerant preacher to his sister in Kansas. The covers were put away for years. In fact, I just rediscovered them last year when we moved. The miracle of Google search made it possible to trace the writer of the letters. Rev. W. F. Manley, one of the founders of the Pentecostalist movement in the United States. The letters were written over a ten year period 1901-1911 from Alma, KS, Zion, IL, Los Angeles and Oakland. The letters are now on their way to an eager expert on the Pentecostalist movement at Fuller Theological Seminary in California. Sometimes it's fun to be a blind pig searching for an acorn.

10. It is the stories that coins tell that make them for us something profoundly more than just old round disks of metal. If you concentrate on just the story, you can sometimes find a fascinating tale attached to a run of the mill coin. A couple of years ago I bought a middle date large cent of modest appearance. Accompanying the humble cent , a letter and several notes from well known numismatists of the past discussing the possibility of its being a previously unknown die variety. This "new variety" was ultimately debunked, but the interesting story and correspondence have remained attached. The coin itself was not a bargain at eighty dollars. It was only worth fifty. An extra thirty for the story? The story was worth many times that price to me.

11. Buy the collector, not the coin. There are fabulous pedigrees sometimes attached to very modest inexpensive coins. Pedigrees, in general, go unappreciated on non-marquee coins. I have bought cents pedigreed to nineteenth century Chapman Sales for less than a hundred dollars. I recently was fortunate to buy a coin out of the fabulous Robert Lomprey collection of Connecticut coppers. The description read in part "1787 Connecticut Miller 32.2-X.2. . . . Ex. Bob Lomprey, his first Connecticut copper acquired 8/20/75." The coin that began the 30 year formation of one of the finest Connecticut copper collections ever . . . . A priceless story free with a $70 coin purchase. I love this hobby!

12. Too expensive to buy coins you want to keep? Buy coins to give away! You can buy rolls of wheat pennies for a few dollars. Steel pennies for a sawbuck. Rolls of Indian pennies and Buffalo nickels are as little as $25 a roll. The look on people's faces when they receive these in change or as part of a tip is worth many times the few cents it costs a collector to put them back in circulation. The ANA annually puts coins into circulation to promote the hobby during its conventions. It would stretch my generosity thin to leave a 1909 S-VDB as a tip for my Grand Slam breakfast. But re-introducing a few Wheat ear cents and Buffalo nickels costs next to nothing and is lots of fun. It's like being a numismatic Santa. Ho, ho, ho!

Hope to see some of you at Denver ANA August 16-20. My table numbers are 1007-1009

Wishing all of you the happiest of Holiday seasons! Merry Christmas!

Chris

EVAN KOPALD COLLECTION UPDATE - REMAINING COINS

The following is a listing of Large Cents still available from the Evan Kopald Collection. If you are receiving this list, you should have received a copy of the Kopald catalog in May. If you did not receive a copy, please write me.

Alternately, photos of many of the cents are available on my website, www.earlycents.com. Many other coins are listed there as well.
